Abstract

Beulah Dymacek's interview focuses on her experiences within the home she purchased with her husband in the 50s. Mrs. Dymacek discusses her everyday chores and why they were necessary for her family's day-to-day life. Her family is a focal point of her life and of her interview, but she was also active in the community. She was involved in the PTA and her husband served on the school board. She was also a member of the local home demonstration club.
